COLUMBIA ASTHMA & ALLERGY CLINIC ANNOUNCES GRAND OPENING

Columbia Asthma & Allergy Clinic announced today their grand opening celebration scheduled for November 18th.

Attendees can enjoy hors d'oeuvres, drinks, free gifts, a drawing for an IPOD Nano and tours of the facility from 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Located in Camas at 3400 SE 196th Ave., near QFC in The Glen business development, the clinic specializes in providing world-class allergy and asthma care for adults and pediatric patients in a modern facility. The clinic evaluates and treats conditions such as asthma, allergies, hives, hay fever, eczema and sinusitis.

In addition, the clinic has a facility for extended stays and a state-of-the-art clinical laboratory for 24-hour turn-around time on laboratory results and other immunology testing.

Medical Director, Sanjeev Jain, earned joint M.D. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Wisconsin and residency training in internal medicine from the University of Texas. Jain went on to obtain a three year fellowship training in allergy and immunology from Yale University School of Medicine.

“I chose the Camas area because I wanted to be part of a growing community, offering high quality, personalized care for allergy patients,” explained Jain.

Before moving to Vancouver, Jain was part of the faculty at the University Of Washington School Of Medicine in Seattle Washington. Jain’s wife is a radiologist at Southwest Washington Medical Center.
